Subject: Microsoft settlement

To Whom It May Concern:

I am responding to the recent law suit filed by AOL, through their Netscape division. This law suit alleges that microsoft brought unfair business practices to the browser market place. I consider this nonsense and an attempt on AOL's part to further disrupt Microsofts ability to develop new products and run its business effectively. The bottom line is that Microsoft was much more aggressive in the market place and infact had a better product for the user. AOL, is part of the group who influenced the investigation by the Justice department. This kind of corporate behavior using the legal system to bring down a competitor is very disruptive to our American corporate way of life and to the consumer. It is costly and counter productive.
